WELCOME to the DECEMBER edition of LINK

The season of cheese is upon us, in more ways than one! We'll be decking the halls with boughs of holly, stocking up on stilton, and watching special episodes of our favourite TV shows that veer sharply in a cozy, heartwarming direction. And, as the crowning glory of all that cheese, we celebrate the "Lil' Baby Jesus in the manger".

But, as the message of Christmas has morphed into a fuzzy sense of hope conjured up by a fairly generic image of newborn innocence, we have emptied the celebration of its significance. Christmas represents a miraculous act of God, upending the natural order of things – and by that I am not referring to the virgin birth, which was just a means to an end. Two thousand years ago, the Almighty Creator of the universe chose to leave all the power and glory of His heavenly dwelling, and take on the frail, humble form of a baby. He did this in order to step into our shoes, so that He might identify with us in our weakness, and so He could ultimately die in our place, in order to save us.

'My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.' (1 Corinthians 12:9)

So after a year in which we have been acutely aware of the failures of powerful leaders, both within the Church and around the world, let us put our trust in the most powerful leader of all, who gave up his power and embraced weakness so that sinners can be forgiven and those who suffer can be healed.

Merry Christmas,

Phil

November 16th marked a special day for someone who was a very active member of St. Andrew's for many years. Joan Rymell, now living at Mornington Court, was 100 years young!

Rev. Michael and Sylvia Anderson came early and Michael officiated at a personal and meaningful service of Communion for Joan and her sister, Babs Stainer.

After lunch, friends from church and others from Hordle flower club came for afternoon tea. There was fizz and a large cake - but prominence was given to the celebratory card sent to Joan from the King.

Hordle Flower Club members had made some delightful floral arrangements to Joan's delight. Musical entertainment was provided by a soft-voiced "crooner" who sang songs from olden days.

Joan was her indomitable self and seemed to enjoy every minute.

Many Happy returns of the day, dear Joan!

Hordle's Alternative Halloween! (31st October)

"If you can't beat them, join them" can sometimes be good advice. Halloween, in the UK, has now embedded itself in the calendar of children's activities whatever we may think of its message. 70+ children with their families saw another side of Halloween - light instead of darkness. Drawn by a cheery light display and the aroma of hot chocolate, families joined the All Saints team for chat and fun games as they made their way around the village on Halloween. Eight litres of hot chocolate plus a generous number of Cadbury's Celebrations were consumed along the way. This gave Phil and the whole team the opportunity to chat with our passing guests and demonstrate in a practical way - "Church in the Community". Thanks to Anya and her team for showing that ...

The Light truly shines in the Dark and overcomes it.

Tiptoe School Report

Nearly the end of another year for everyone yet in school we are very much at the beginning of our academic year. We were thrilled to welcome a full cohort of reception children this September - with lots of new families joining the Tiptoe community. All the children settled very quickly back to school routines and are working hard at their learning.

A new concept we have introduced this year is our “muddy learning” which is essentially an outdoor classroom experience for the children and they are absolutely loving it! They have been completing practical maths activities using all sorts of equipment such as hoops, cones, chinks, sticks, stones and so on amongst other things. This type of learning is especially for those children who struggle with the more formal classroom environment and is part of our ethos to ensure inclusivity and accessibility for ALL children.

Alongside our muddy learning we are looking to also run a Forest School on our grounds. The philosophy of Forest School is based upon 6 principles.

A forest school curriculum prioritizes time outdoors, natural materials, environmental stewardship, and active outdoor exploration. It takes place on a regular basis and for a sustained period of time. Our children in the Resourced Provision classes have accessed Forest School in a setting outside of school for many years and the benefits they get from it are amazing. They gain confidence in themselves, the ability to team work, learn about taking risk, grow their self esteem and more!

We plan to use our own Forest School to bring this experience to all our children which in turn will help their academic learning and also help each child to become more rounded citizens of the future. We are very excited about this addition to our school and aim to have this fully rolled out by the end of the academic year!

Alongside all this fantastic outdoor-type learning we are obviously working hard on our more academic areas and again have expanded this to include a FOREST curriculum which is all about enhancing the children's cultural capital. Each term we will focus on a different aspect with the six areas being

- F - fantastic people & places
- O- originality in art
- R - rights, respects and responsibilities
- E - environment
- S - spirituality & wellbeing
- T - to the future

We looked at Martin Luther King's "I have a dream" for fantastic people last term and we are having a whole school art workshop with St Barbe's this term for originality in art. It is very early days but the children seem to be enjoying the sessions and we are hoping to build on this going forward.

As you can see there are lots of things going on in school and we are constantly striving to develop and improve the whole experience for the children.

Currently we are hosting bespoke tours for potential Year R children for September 2025. If you know of anyone who has a child due to start school next September, please point them in our direction. We would love to show them our fantastic school!

Finally, Christmas is rapidly approaching and we would like to extend our usual invitation to the community to join us for the dress rehearsal of our nativity performance. This is taking place on Monday 9th December at 10.30am. If you could let the office know if you plan to attend on 01590 682375 or adminoffice@tiptoe.hants.sch.uk it would help us to know numbers! We are also looking at holding a community carols event for residents to join us on Monday 16th in the morning. Further details to follow.

And on that note we would like to wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a healthy and Happy New year.

Buddy Welcome Service

All Saints Church, Hordle

On Monday 23rd September, we hosted our annual Buddy Welcome Service in All Saints Church, Hordle. This is one of our most precious services and serves as a really special gathering where we welcome new pupils to both the school and the church family.

This year, the theme of our worship centered around the symbolism of our wooden arch at the entrance to our school. We explored what it meant to be 'together' and the children enjoyed the beautiful picture book 'Together' by Britta Teckentrup. Parents enjoyed the Foundation Stage performance of their Animal Chatter poem before receiving their first gift from the church. Each year, our new pupils receive a candle from the church, a reminder that there will always be light in their lives and guidance from God. Children take their steps up to the front of the church for the first time with their Year 6 buddy by their side. It is the first step in a truly special bond that the children make over their first year at Hordle Church of England Primary School. Over the course of their first year, they read with their buddies, play with them and make genuine connections. It is the first step in a child's learning adventure here at Hordle and one we are extremely proud of.

Here are just some of the words of advice which were shared with the Foundation Stage pupils:

"I know it may seem scary but you will learn to love Hordle as much as we do. I know this because I was as small and nervous as you are just a few short years ago. We remember how big our buddies seemed when we were in FS but we also remember the special times we spent together.

We, your buddies, promise to watch out for you and take good care of you in your first year of school. As you learn and grow, your talents will be nurtured and celebrated. Always remember to be yourself and know that you are an important piece of the Hordle family... Thank you."

Here are some prayers which were shared by our Year 6 pupils:

Dear Lord,

Thank you for bringing us together with our buddies today. Please make sure they are kept safe throughout their years in Hordle.

Thank you for giving us a chance to learn how to look after others. We will take good care of them.

Amen

Marlee

Dear Lord

Thank you for our buddies. We pray that they have lots of great experiences with us this year. Please help them to have a successful time at Hordle, learn a lot and make some amazing friends.

We pray that while they are here they can be themselves and feel safe throughout their journey here.

Amen

Hannah

Dear God

We pray that you help our buddies to thrive in their learning and life. Please help them to make friends and have fun while they are here so that they can live life; life in all its fullness.

We are grateful for our amazing memories of Hordle so please help our buddies to create memories of their own. We pray that you let them have the support they need and do the things they love. We are all special in our own ways so we pray that you love them and appreciate them for who they are.

Amen

THOUGHTS FROM MY GARDEN ...

Where has the year gone? A quarter of this century has seemed to have passed so quickly. The weather has been very quiet recently, so the sun was very welcome when the clouds eventually parted.

The fuchsias and nasturtiums seem to like the cooler weather; both have been flowering well in my garden. I have put the protection bags back onto the purple sprouting, as the pigeons have been eating the tops and breaking the leaves further down. I counted 12 pigeons in the field but I wish they would stay there! I do not remember having so much trouble in the past. I often think that having dogs and cats does act as a deterrent.

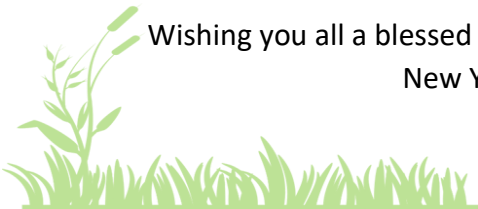

The hedgehog is still feeding. Sometimes it leaves some food, but then will eat more the next night. I have put the top half of an old cat carrier under some weeds, with dried leaves in it hoping it will provide a good hibernation house for it. I did buy some cheaper food pellets but I soon realised they were not liked! Who would think that a hedgehog would be so discriminating?

I put seed and fat balls out for the birds, to help them during the winter. The fat balls are just outside the kitchen window, so I can see whatever is feeding quite well.

Did you enjoy the Chris Walker Singtet? I thought it was great, and by the happy faces I could see, I think it was a success. Looking forward to the next evening, Clive!

Wishing you all a blessed Christmas and a peaceful
New Year.

Misbehaving' while in jail for failing to keep up with his alimony payments? Since the tune is nearly 100 years old (1929), who knows, but it makes a good story! One of the best features of this gig was Chris Walker's ability to tell a story, to set the tunes in their context. Along the way we had some salty tales from his time on board ship, and an explanation of how the word 'dixieland' came about (it comes from a ten dollar bill, known as a dix in the French Quarter of New Orleans) - so now you know.

The Swingtet consisted of Chris on clarinet, Tim Eyles on trumpet, Greg on piano, Ken on bass, Simon on drums. The first half featured well known tunes such as 'Basin Street Blues', 'Ain't Misbehavin' and 'Hello Central, give me Dr Jazz'. 'The Old Rugged Cross' also featured.

The second half allowed the band a bit more leeway to experiment with arrangements, call and response, changes in key etc. 'All I do is dream of you' featured really quick bass playing. 'Georgia on my mind' spotlighted Tim Eyles on the trumpet – who was the stand out player for me. Spiritual songs were covered by 'When the saints go marching in' and 'Just a closer walk with thee'.

All in all, a great evening enjoyed by a full house.

Looking at Lent but no pancakes yet!

Pancake Day, or Shrove Tuesday, is the traditional feast day before the start of Lent on Ash Wednesday.

Lent – the 40 days leading up to Easter – was traditionally a time of fasting and on Shrove Tuesday, Anglo-Saxon Christians went to confession and were “shriven” (absolved from their sins). A bell would be rung to call people to confession.

The first day of Lent is known as Ash Wednesday and many churches hold special services where worshippers are marked on the forehead with ash. Typically, the ash is made from burning special crosses which were used in church services on the previous year's Palm Sunday. It is sometimes mixed with special oil and it is a poignant reminder of what Jesus did for us by dying on the cross for our sins and our need to seek forgiveness.

The word "Lent" comes from the Old English word lænctē, which means “lengthening of daylight hours” or “springtime”. Many Christians observe Lent in preparation for Easter. It’s a time to remember the events leading up to Jesus’ death, ask for forgiveness, and prepare to celebrate his resurrection.

Some Christians also give things up during Lent, such as certain foods, as a way to show their devotion to God. In the Gospels, Jesus spends 40 days in the desert fasting and praying, which probably inspired the length of Lent.

A prayer for Lent

Dear Lord, grant me pardon from past sins, courage to resist all present temptations, and protection against all evils to come, so that I might taste the victory of your resurrection power today and commend your saving grace to others who face their own troubles and temptations. In your powerful name I pray. Amen.

RICE

One day, after years of helping her husband nurture the growing church in the small state of Mizoram in India, Katherine Alen Williams was pondering how they could support a Bible Woman (evangelist) who had almost no income. Then she recalled what members of the Khasi tribe in another area had done - setting aside a handful of rice – for Jesus.

Williams remembered the teaching that Jesus is the unseen guest at the table and, following the lead of the Khasi, began putting aside a handful of uncooked rice for Christ at every meal. At the end of the week, she had a kilo of rice which she sold in the market and gave the proceeds to the church to help support the Bible Woman.

She taught all the other Christians in the area to do this, and the custom caught on with great enthusiasm. This was something everyone could contribute to pay the salaries of Christian workers. Williams had begun a tradition among Mizoram Christians that dates to 1910.

Lying in the northeast corner of India, Mizoram is an isolated area that is home to just under one million people. To this day, the Mizo people still contribute a handful of rice for Jesus at every meal. On Saturday it is brought to the market and sold at a fifty-percent discount to the poor.

Christians also tithe the firewood they cut and find many other creative ways to give to the church. In fact, 46 percent of the Mizo Presbyterian Church budget goes to missions. This is their highest priority.

The custom has spread to tribal Christians in neighbouring Myanmar, who are even poorer. But in Myanmar, Christians of the Matu people have already been doing what they can, in dire circumstances, to help one another.

“They (the Matu people) said that God had given them healthy bodies, so the women and young men hire themselves out as labourers one day per year to work in the fields, and all the proceeds go to missions,” says Joel Hogan.

Tim Cosby encountered this story in Our Daily Bread Bible Readings. It is reproduced here with their kind permission.

Thoughts whilst Christmas shopping

Can you hear the silence?
The stillness of the night?
It happened at a star-lit time
The moon was at its height.

God revealed his plan to us
He sent a baby King -
One who'd cause forever
New thoughts of everything.

So, don't think about the value
Don't ponder on the cost
Earthly things don't really matter -
At the end they'll all be lost.

So, put your faith in Jesus
Keep your eye fixed on the goal
He'll lead you with a loving hand -
A homecoming for your soul.

Joan Lane

Pat Cassandro reminds us -

I thought my extractor fan was broken as it stopped working! Thankfully I noticed the switch was off. It cannot do anything without being connected to the power!

John 15 v.5 reads, "I am the vine; you are the branches. If you remain in me and I in you, you will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing". (That's Jesus talking). In Acts 1 v.7, Jesus said to His disciples "... you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you ..."

As Christians, one of the ways we are able to be His witnesses is in the way we live and manage "life".

Life is a challenge ... good times and bad times. Happy times and sad times.

*Thankfully I have a Friend called Jesus. He's not just for Christmas but for life!

*What a friend we have in Jesus
All our sins and griefs to bear
What a privilege to carry
Everything to God in prayer.*
