WELCOME to the SEPTEMBER edition of LINK

Last month's rioting across our nation's cities may seem a world away from our leafy parish, but it speaks of a tendency we can all face in different ways. Police have described the motivation for the riots as 'nuanced', whilst one volunteer at a mosque in Southport described a 'general sense of frustration'. Life is hard for a lot of people in our country today, and when we face hardship there can be a tendency to want to find someone to blame, and in finding someone to blame, there can be a desire to retaliate.

The Jews of Jesus' day faced the same temptation. Their nation was ruled by a foreign empire that forced them to uphold laws that constrained their own expression of Jewish faith and culture and they felt, 'We're the victims and Rome is to blame; we need God to give Rome its comeuppance and vindicate his people.'

Jesus responded to this attitude in the sermon on the mount when he said, "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth" (Matthew 5:5). The Jewish people were right to feel disenfranchised by Rome, but it led many of them to a hardened self-righteousness that viewed others as the problem that needed to be defeated. Jesus calls for meekness which recognises that, before God, we are all part of the problem, and restitution will only come as we humbly ask God to act in his kindness to save. To those who do, Jesus promises he will give them the earth, when he returns to reign over it in justice and mercy.

We are all exposed to the challenges facing our country today; let's pray that God would give us grace to avoid scapegoating others and instead lean on Him to strengthen our faith in Him and our love towards the world around us.

In Christ, Paie

Meet Rev Simon Hones, our new Assistant Priest

I grew up in a Christian home at the edge of Bournemouth. Mum is a housewife and Dad was a lecturer in physics at what is now Bournemouth University. My sister, Sarah, and I both went on to study biochemistry, so ours was quite a science-based household which never had a conflict with our faith.

I have always been curious about why things are as we experience them, and how they work. So the natural world is a constant source of fascination for me: I love to go birdwatching or rockpooling; I find snakes very interesting (I even had a job catching them); I much prefer the countryside to towns; and I love growing unusual plants. There is so much to learn in life, and it's fun.

The same applies to our relationship with God. As with all relationships, it begins with knowing Him. I use an adaption of Richard of Chichester's famous prayer to describe Christianity: Knowing God better, loving Him more and obeying Him more faithfully.

God called me to ordination when I was first at university. I finished my biochemistry degree, but then worked on the shop floor of an engineering company in Sussex, where my colleagues broadened my life understanding greatly. Then back to Uni in Birmingham and Queen's Theological College. Those were infamous for radical/liberal theology and my Biblical faith was challenged at every stage, but grew stronger as a result.

Ordained at Winchester in 1979, I served my Title at Christ Church, Winchester. It had then a huge conservative evangelical congregation.

In 1982 I moved to Chineham, near Basingstoke, where God grew the church from six communicants to over 200 in eight years. I led an ecumenical church with Methodist and URC colleagues and we built a new church to house the expanding congregation.

The next 23 years of ministry were spent in Tolworth, SW London, where God again grew a big congregation with Bible-based faith and active evangelism.

My family are my greatest joy: Laura, Dave, Mike and Eleanor. In an old six-bedroomed vicarage with a big garden in Tolworth we had lots of fun. My wife left us in 2009, so I have been caring for them since. God has answered my prayer that they are all evangelical Christians. I currently have nine grandchildren aged from one month to eight years old.

All Saints Hordle Summer Worship Afternoon

Sunday 5th August

The church family was extremely blessed to be visited by a worship music group from St Wins Church in Totton, for a Sunday afternoon of praise and worship to God. The service was led by Dan Gardner. Dan is a vicar in training at St Wins who is working with Churches across the Deanery to strengthen worship music through events, guidance and general encouragement!

The songs were a fantastic mix of the new and more familiar including I Stand Amazed in the Presence of the Lord, I Speak Jesus and Awake My Soul. It was a wonderful way to spend time together sharing worship together and left many feeling spiritually uplifted and refreshed.

The event also served as a suitable prelude to the new Sunday evening service which is planned to start in the All Saints' Church Hall in September (look out for further details soon!)

If you were unable to come to the service, you can watch it now on the Church YouTube channel (<https://tinyurl.com/5t4cj572>)

Licensing of Revd Simon Hones as Assistant Priest

Prayers have been answered at St. Andrew's! We have a new priest to minister to us.

Rev. Simon Hones was licensed in a joyful service on 13th August to serve as Associate minister in the Parish. More than seventy people attended the evening service officiated by Bishop Geoff Annas, acting Bishop of Southampton. The Bishop preached on St. Paul's first letter to the people of Corinth, chapter 12 (v 12-27). Summing up his talk, he asked all Christians to consider their gifts and work together to use them to represent Jesus in the world.

The hymns were sung from the heart and the official paper Deed of Licensing, signed by Bishop Geoff, representing the Bishop of Winchester, was presented to Simon.

A sizeable number of people from Simon's previous church had driven across the Forest from Marchwood to support Simon. They certainly were in good voice as the building resounded to fulsome song led by our own able choir. Following the service, refreshments were served in the Church Hall.

Rev. Simon recently moved into Church Cottage opposite the church in Sway Road. He has many years of experience to bring to his role in the Parish and he looks forward to greeting all comers to worship at 10am on Sundays. Please come and join us!

We wish Simon every blessing in his new home and job in Tiptoe and Hordle.

Our flock at St. Andrew's is certainly delighted we have a new shepherd!

Are you confused about the Church's main festival days ?

The year in the Christian calendar can seem rather complex but I hope to unravel that in a series of articles looking at the main special days. Some of these will be obvious but others perhaps less familiar. Perhaps, you may not have realised just how many there are.

- Advent
 - Christmas
 - Epiphany
 - Lent
- Passiontide and Holy Week
 - Easter
 - Trinity to All Saints
 - All Saints to Advent

So here we are in late summer but we shall begin at Advent that is seen as the start of a new year in the Church.

Advent comes from the Latin 'adventus' that literally means the 'coming' or 'arrival'. The season of Advent first emerged in the Church in the fourth and fifth centuries and lasted, like Lent, for 40 days. Later tradition developed the Advent we know today, of the four Sundays before Christmas Day. It is celebrated now in the Western Church as a time of expectant waiting and preparation for both the celebration of the Nativity of Christ at Christmas and the return of Christ at the Second Coming.

As the Church prepares to celebrate the coming of Christ, Christians are invited to spend time in reflection and asking God for forgiveness (sometimes this is called repentance or penitence) as we ponder on the amazing fact that Jesus is coming to the world as fully human, to show us something of God's unconditional love for each one of us. Church decorations are simple and sparse, and purple is the traditional colour used. Advent falls at the darkest time of the year, and the natural symbols of darkness and light are powerfully at work throughout Advent and into Christmas.

An advent ring reminds us of this as week by week, a different colour candle is lit - each representing an aspect of this special season.

Lord Jesus, Light of light, you have come among us. Help us who live by your light to shine as lights in your world. Glory to God in the highest. Amen.

Thoughts for the Future - Dave and Becky Waterman are our Linked Missionaries serving with MAF. Here they share some of their thoughts concerning the future.

FOR DAVE

Our reason for moving to Liberia was to establish a maintenance hub in West Africa, and to change the registration of our planes to a sustainable system. With those goals achieved, and new engineers due to arrive later this year who will be able to manage the day to day maintenance here, I am considering what position within MAF may be next for me. MAF Liberia is less in need of a strategic thinker for development now, and I am keen to be able to use those skills. Please pray for God to open the right doors and for a new position to sink my teeth into.

FOR BECKY

*I now have two books published, A Year in the Life of Jack Meadows and No Mountain Immovable (both available on Amazon!), and I'm debating what I should work on next.*

With the busyness and complexity of life in Liberia, I have not had much space and energy for creativity in the last few months, which has made it difficult to consider a future project. Please pray with me for some divine inspiration, the energy to get started, and also wisdom as to whether to continue with existing projects, such as my weekly Youtube Bible thoughts. Thank you!

Can You Join the Adventure?

The cost of living seems to have increased around the globe, and that means the cost for keeping us here in Liberia has also risen. We're funded by donations from churches, groups and individuals—it's the only reason we can be here doing this work. If you are able to make a monthly or one-off donation, please head to our page on the MAF website www.maf-uk.org/waterman

PGL 2024

Isle of Wight

Hordle Primary School children once again ventured to Little Canada, an outdoor activity centre on Isle of Wight for their PGL trip. The weekend was all about team building skills - it was great to see children cheering one another on, trying new things and of course, persuading the adults to join in too!

"PGL is amazing and fun! If you don't want to do any activity, you don't have to. The instructors encourage and help you all the time".

Anthony

"The best activity at PGL is the boat cleaning (ha ha ha). The matrix is so much fun! PGL is amazing and I would love to come back next year".

Miya

"It's great fun at PGL. You get to try lots of activities that we don't normally do at home".

Lewis

"The trapeze is fantastic and fun! It contains two of my favourite things, climbing and jumping!"

THOUGHTS FROM MY GARDEN ...

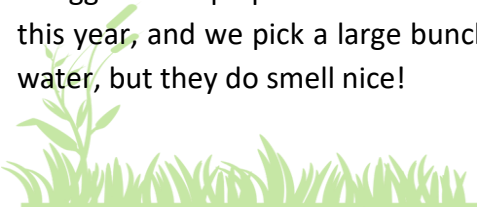

About a month ago, I found a baby hedgehog by the back door, about the size of the palm of my hand. I gave it some sultanas which it ate, but since then I leave a saucer of hedgehog food, pellets softened in water, under the upturned wheelbarrow for protection every evening. Occasionally, I see it feeding and it is certainly growing. It needs to weigh about 1lb to survive the winter. I can see the next thing will be a house for it to hibernate in!

We have spent another day at the Hawk Conservancy Trust. Although some hawks will be flown, it is mostly bigger birds with a wingspan up to 2m. I think one of the highlights for us is when about 15 birds fly together, eight black kites, two storks, various vultures and eagles, all at head height! A new bird was an Egyptian vulture called Boe, which flew around finding the thermals, and then disappeared for about 15 minutes. He wore a tracker and was over 1,000 ft up, eventually reappearing. How he was brought down is a question for next time.

We finished the day by buying an extra experience. We spent 30 minutes with burrowing owls, only about 6in. high, which live in the burrows made by other animals in South America. We sat with our hands out flat and very soon we had an owl on our hand, which were then fed by the keeper. As there were only five people there, and with two owls, we had quite a few close encounters. They are quite chatty, especially if the keeper was slow in feeding them!

I am still gardening, and enjoying eating the fresh vegetables. This year, the growth of the plants was slow because of the weather but now it is a struggle to keep up with the weeds! The sweetpeas have flowered very well this year, and we pick a large bunch every day. They do not last very long in water, but they do smell nice!

Keep smiling!

'What is that?'

Is this the question you asked when seeing this 8ft high construction at the New Forest Show or on Station Road in New Milton?

'It's an anthropogenic nest' ...

'A what?'

Anthropogenic means human activity that impacts nature. This 'nest' is made up of litter collected from the forest floor - and it's litter waste that is increasingly used by birds and other wildlife to make their nests - thus making these 'homes' a toxic and potentially harmful environment for their inhabitants.

What's the answer? What's the message the anthropogenic nest is giving us?

It's obvious - DO NOT DROP LITTER! Encourage others not to drop litter. If no bin is in sight, take it home and dispose of it. Though seemingly a small thing, it's all part of our obedience and service to God by doing as He has asked us - to care for His creation.

Eco Tip

Keep a hand-picker in the car with a waste bag to take with us when we walk. Wildlife will thank us for it.

NB. If not recycled, it takes 460 years for a plastic bottle to decompose.

Bible Society Innovations

Bible Society are constantly developing new ways to help people to engage with scripture. These are examples of the current learning tools that are available:

Rooted - The Rooted subscription journal takes you deeper into Scripture with reflections, activities, and lots of space to be creative. It's a unique way to enrich your Bible study time and grow your faith as you explore God's word.

You'll get a new journal every other month that focusses on a different book or theme in the Bible. Rooted has become a community as well as a journal. Bible Society will keep you updated with encouraging emails, featuring amazing stories about the impact you're making, digital resources, and more.

You can also join other Rooted members in the Bible Society Facebook group to share your thoughts and ask questions about what you're learning.

The highly successful Romans Course – used by Small Groups in this parish.

'The Bible changes lives,' comments Dr Andrew Ollerton, author of the Bible Course and the Romans Course. 'Romans taught me how to think,' he says.

'In my late teenage years, when I'd come to understand the Christian faith for myself, a friend gave me a copy of John Stott's commentary on Romans. It gave me an altered vision of what I thought life was about.'

Romans isn't just for academics - it is the most influential letter ever written, and even a short list of people powerfully impacted by it spans centuries to include Augustine, Wesley and the actor Sir David Suchet.

Andrew reminds us that Romans is a letter and it wasn't addressed to Martin Luther, to theologians or to universities. It was for everyone in every church in the cosmopolitan city of Rome including slaves and slave owners.

So, what does approximately 9,500 plus 1,900 plus 1,400 plus 900 plus 500 add up to?

That's the number of people who gathered together at New Wine 2024 for a week of brilliant and accessible Bible teaching. The festival returned to its original site at the Bath and West Showground, Shepton Mallet, to celebrate its 35th Anniversary. Adults, teenagers, younger children and babies all had great fun, and enjoyed the great outdoors in a variety of accommodation from tiny hiking tents to luxurious motorhomes. Churches groups were put together into 'Villages' so that we all felt at home within smaller areas. Those reluctant to camp stayed in nearby BnB and guest houses and came in daily.

The Fun Zone was a great success, especially the giant Ferris Wheel, Climbing Wall, big screen TV to watch the Olympics. It was all free and understandably, this was very popular with families!

There were opportunities for Worship in the Big Top with incredible Bible teaching in the mornings, a wide range of seminars throughout the day and age specific groups for young people in their own spaces.

We felt the power of the Holy Spirit at work in so many ways and it was thrilling to be worshipping with like-minded Christians.

New Wine will be back in Shepton 30th July - 4th August 2025 and we are hoping that a number across our Deanery will attend. If you would like to know more, do chat to us.
